PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Rev. E. C. LeBel, C. S. B., M. A.

Congratulations to the graduates! You have topped one high hill with distinction and we are proud of you! I hope it is not necessary to remind you that although you are graduating you are still very young; there still remains "Alps upon Alps" of rugged learning to be striven for. While this thought should make you humble, it is comforting for you to know that you are shod with the sturdy principles of Christian truths. If you don't deliberately and unreasonably throw them away for easier walking, you won't slip. You will be able to scale the dizziest heights of Arts and Sciences and feel steady in the Art and Science of living. God Bless You!

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

DIALOGUE ON GRADUATION NIGHT

Son: Wait, Mother, I would talk with you.
For ninety-six years you've ushered men into the world
Cloaked in Mary's mantle,
Citizens of goodness, discipline, and knowledge.
And now we go as well,
Have you a word for us?

Mother: I have a word.
I would ask you to be faithful to my word,
To spread my word,
To defend my word,
And remain under the blue mantle
Whence came
The WORD.

MESSAGE

. . . . The enduring challenge to any class is the application of principles they have received. Through the instruction and guidance of the Basilian Fathers we have acquired the principles of a good life. To apply them is our challenge.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This year, instead of reminiscing upon the past, we shall dedicate a message to the graduating class. To you we say: do not relegate your diploma to the barren role of decorating a wall. Rather, use it as a means of making productive the fertile fields of endeavour. Regard your degree as a passport to a great adventure—Life!

Live life fully and your heart will be at peace. Be not afraid to taste of success and failure for they both tend to strengthen your character. It is far better to aspire to glorious triumphs, even though checkered by failure, than to join the company of those who neither suffer nor enjoy much, because they live in the grey twilight that knows neither victory nor defeat.

Winston Churchill once wrote, "Courage is the first of human qualities because it is the quality which guarantees all others." When the skies become troubled, be the first to step forward and sweep away the clouds of adversity, not content until you once more stand on the blue threshold of calm and fruitful endeavour. So with courage and faith in your hearts, make good use of the wealth of knowledge which has been imparted to you during your years at Assumption College and make your best and noblest contributions to the cause of humanity.

Say not the struggle nought availeth,
The labour and the wounds are vain,
The enemy faints not, nor faileth
And as things have been they remain.

If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars;
It may be in you smoke concealed,
Your comrades chase o'er now the fliers,
And, but for you, possess the field.

—Arthur Hugh Clough.

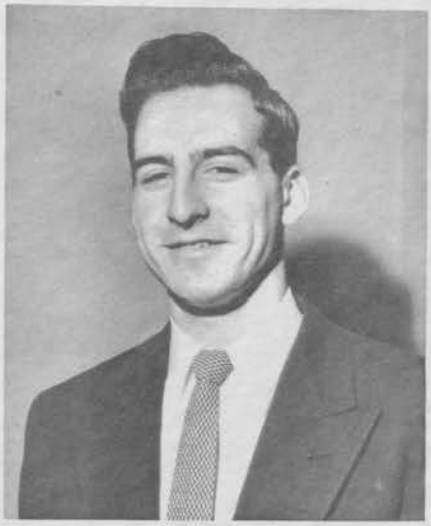
F/L. (Rev.) E. J. Hartmann



P/O. R. C. Sills

The RCAF University Squadron at Assumption College offers undergraduates the opportunity of qualifying as trained commissioned officers in the RCAF, Regular or Reserve. There are two major plans for service, each designed to meet the majority of individual requirements. During the summer months, personnel are trained in their respective fields (Aircrew, Supply, Telecommunication, etc.) at various RCAF stations. The RCAF representative at Assumption College is Flight Lieutenant (Rev.) E. J. Hartmann, who is assisted in the administration of the squadron by Pilot Officer R. C. Sills, a senior student at the college.

"Make sacrifices for sinners"

"Pray, pray very much for sinners. Remember that many souls are lost because there is nobody to pray and to make sacrifices for them . . .

"Say often, especially when you make sacrifices: 'O, Jesus, it is for love of You, for the conversion of sinners, and in reparation for the offences committed against the Immaculate Heart of Mary.' "

SENIOR CONFERENCE BASKETBALL

Paralleling the coming-of-age of Assumption in the sisterhood of Canadian Colleges with independent university status,—indeed, slightly in advance thereof—was her coming-of-age in the world of Canadian Intercollegiate Athletics.

For years Assumption has held an inactive membership in the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union (Central). This union comprises, according to geographical location, three Conferences of colleges and universities, namely: The South West Ontario Conference (of which Assumption is a member); The Ontario-Quebec Conference, (which is the Senior Conference of the three in point of age, control, members of sports, and level of competition, and originally comprised Toronto, McGill and Queens and later Western); and The Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference at the eastern end of the Union.

To compete in any sport at the senior intercollegiate level, any college of the Union, in any of the conferences, must apply for admission, in that particular sport, to the Ontario-Quebec Conference, if they are not already members thereof.

Two years ago McMaster made such application and was accepted, for Senior basketball. Recently they gained admittance for senior football as well. Last year Assumption, which has always been the best known of all Canadian Colleges in basketball, applied for admittance to the Ontario-Quebec Conference in senior basketball and was unanimously accepted. Thus in Senior Intercollegiate basketball the Conference presently comprises Toronto University, McGill University, Queens University, University of Western Ontario, McMaster University and Assumption College.

The 1952-53 season just completed marked our first season of conference play, and though the Purple Raiders finished in the cellar with only two wins and eight losses, we were respected as formidable foes by all the competing members. With considerable pride we point to the honour bestowed upon the Assumption Raiders, even in their initial season of play, by the choice of Captain Lou Veres and Center Chuck Collini for places on the All-Star Conference Team.

Assumption College has lots of confidence that her Raiders will leave the cellar and raid the attic next season.

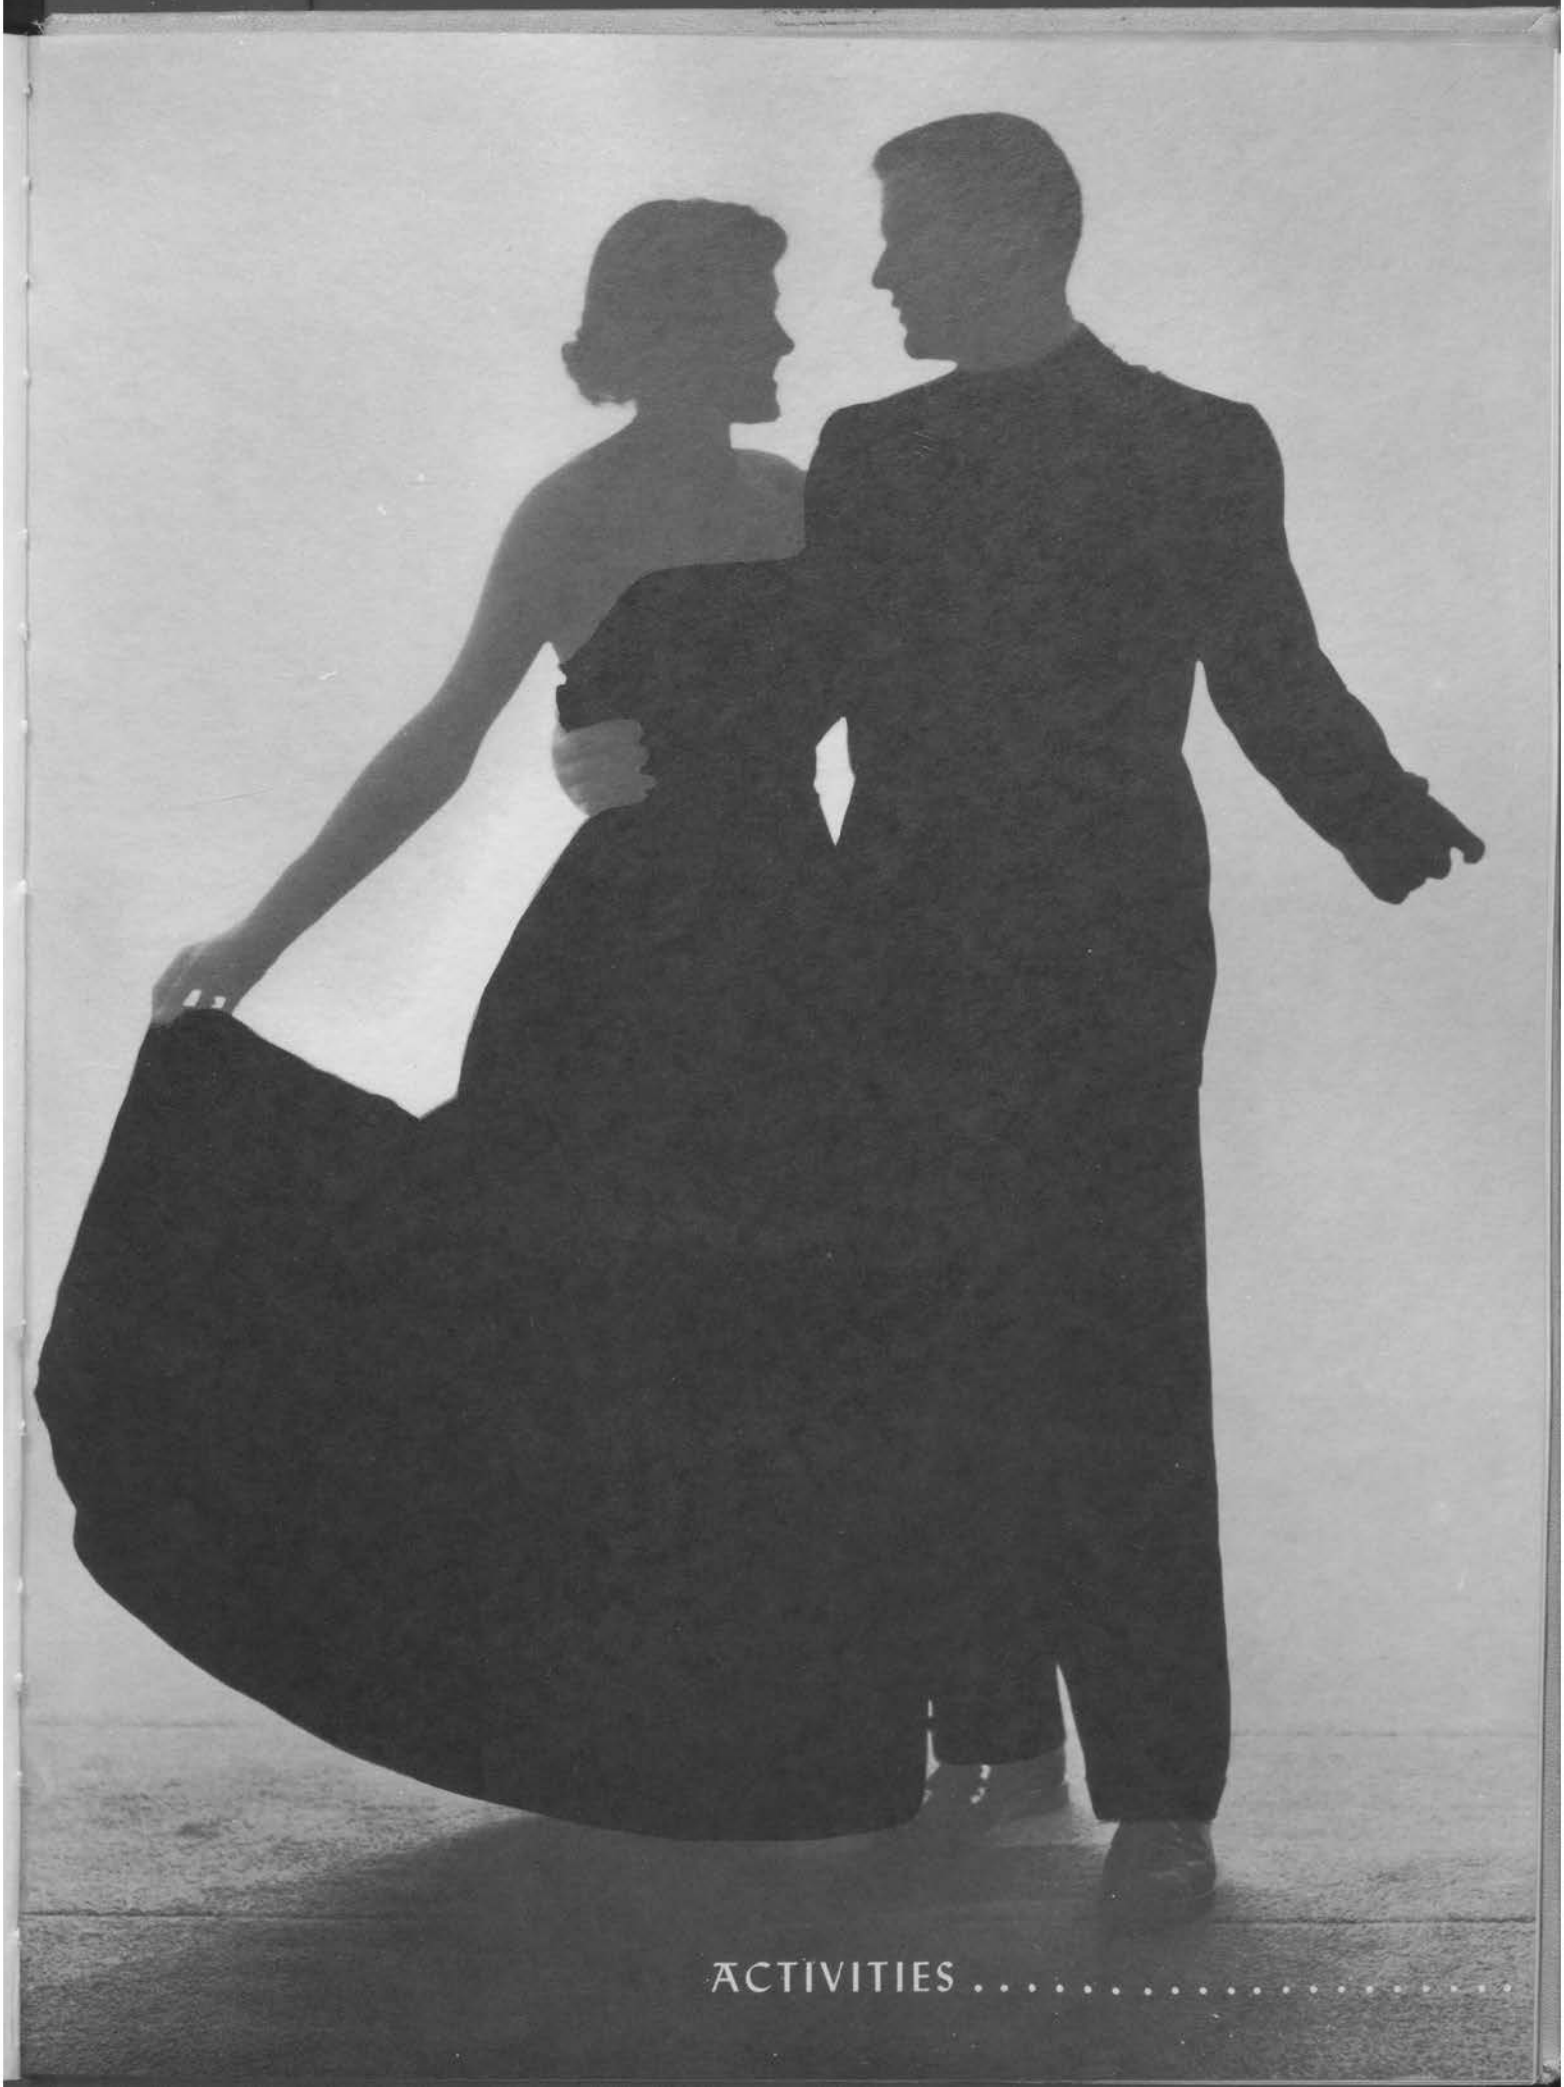
THE THIRD REQUEST

"Consecrate yourself to my Immaculate Heart"

"You have seen hell where the souls of poor sinner go. To save them God wishes to establish in the world the devotion to my Immaculate Heart. If they do what I tell you, many souls will be saved and there will be peace.

"I promise to assist at the hour of death with graces of salvation all those who, on the first Saturday of five consecutive months, go to Confession, receive Holy Communion, say the Rosary, and spend a quarter of an hour with me in meditating on the fifteen Mysteries of the Rosary, with the object of making reparation to me."



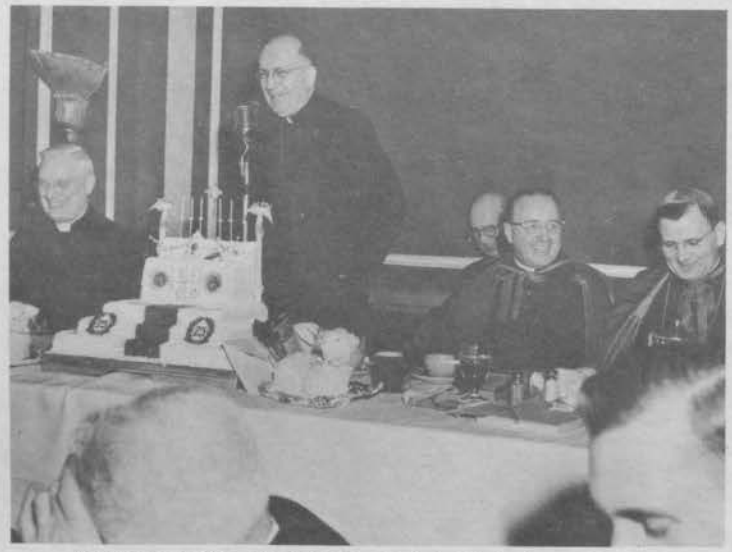
ACTIVITIES . . . . . .

A SALUTE TO:

The Most Rev. C. L. Nelligan, D.D.

AS STATESMAN—The Visit of Royalty to the Campus.

AS EDUCATOR—Greeting Gov. M. Williams at Father and Son Banquet at De La Salle High.



AS AFTER DINNER SPEAKER—Msgr. Dillon's 25th Anniversary Banquet.

AS WORLD TRAVELLER—At Fatima, with Mr. and Mrs. Marto, parents of Francesco and Jacinta.

AS DIPLOMAT—In Rome at Public Audience with Pope. Definition of Dogma of Assumption.

AS SOLDIER—As Officer Commanding Canadian Catholic Chaplains World War II.

I had an interview with Bishop Nelligan the other day, and I remarked to him that he must have had a very interesting and colorful life. He replied thoughtfully that there was really nothing extraordinary about his life, except perhaps the fact that he was born at all. To a further query as to whether or not he had lived all his life in Ontario, his reply was characteristic, "Not yet".

On August 19, 1894, there was born at Tignish, Prince Edward Island, a future soldier, scholar and bishop.

Charles Leo Nelligan received his early education in the Grammar School of his native town, and then attended Prince of Wales College and Normal School at Charlottetown, where he obtained a First Class Teaching Certificate. He taught school for some years in Prince Edward Island, and also in French and German districts in Saskatchewan. These teaching years were interrupted by World War I, during part of which he taught "Musketry". Postwar times found him at St. Dunstan's University, Charlottetown, from which he received his degree of Bachelor of Arts.

He entered the Grand Seminary of Quebec in the autumn of 1921, and completed his theological course in the spring of 1925, with the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He was ordained in his native parish of Tignish, on June 7, 1925, and went almost immediately to the Archdiocese of Edmonton, where the first three years of his ministry were spent at St. Joseph's Cathedral, as assistant to the present Cardinal Archbishop of Toronto. He succeeded the then Monsignor McGuigan as rector of St. Joseph's Cathedral in 1928, and as Vicar-General of the Archdiocese in 1930. The "Royal Purple" was conferred on him in 1931, carrying with it the title of "Monsignor".

His birthday present in 1937 was an announcement from the Apostolic Delegate at Ottawa that he had been appointed Bishop of Pembroke, Ontario. There the Dionne Quintuplets came under his jurisdiction, and he had the consoling experience of giving them their First Holy Communion, and of administering to them the Sacrament of Confirmation. He related with a chuckle that in October, 1939, after he was appointed Principal Catholic Chaplain of the Canadian Armed Forces, he went to pay them a visit, and, while they recognized him immediately, they couldn't understand why he was wearing a uniform, and decided finally that he must have joined the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The War years were busy ones for the Bishop, as he visited the troops overseas as well as in Canada, Labrador and Newfoundland, and indeed wherever units of the Canadian Armed Forces were to be found. He interchanged army and airforce uniforms, and was very fortunate that the navy did not have an authorized chaplain's uniform at that time. On the occasion of his visits overseas he had the privilege of meeting important personages of the War,—Prime Minister Churchill, General de Gaule, General Sikorski and others. He tells of a rather close call he had during the bombing of London. He was staying at a hotel near Trafalgar Square, and left in the early evening to visit the Canadian troops at Aldershot. That night the hotel was almost completely demolished by a bomb.

He took a particular interest in the welfare of Polish soldiers, visiting them in Scotland and in other places, and as a reward, he received the decoration,"De Polonia Restituta" from the Exiled Polish Government. When asked what Canadian medals he had received, he remarked casually, "Oh, just the usual medals that any old soldier receives". His rank at the end of the War was that of Brigadier.

He remained Bishop of Pembroke while carrying on the duties of Military Ordinary, but the burden of work took its toll, and he was forced on account of ill health to resign both ecclesiastical charges in the early part of 1945. After a rather prolonged period of recuperation, he undertook light teaching duties at Assumption College, to test out his strength and to provide himself with a new interest, and he is now teaching "full time",—Canadian History, American History, British Colonial History and French Literature. Any extra energy he uses up in speaking at banquets, etc.

Two years ago Bishop Nelligan and Father O'Loane, President of Assumption College, "flew" to Rome for the definition of the dogma of the Assumption, the latter presenting to the Holy Father a beautifully bound volume of interesting information about Assumption College.

Just last year this new "Bishop of Tours" attended the International Eucharistic Congress at Barcelona, visited Fatima, Lourdes, Lisieux, etc., and spent some weeks in England and Ireland. He has enrolled for the Newman Summer Course at Oxford in July of this year, and expects to be in London for the Coronation.

These are some of the highlights of Bishop Nelligan's life, and if it is not a "full" life, where can one be found? As an afterthought I asked him the source of his humor, and he replied, "Well, really I may say that I never said anything because I thought it was funny. Certainly I will admit that I thought some things were funny, because I said them."

NINETEENTH SEASON: CHRISTIAN CULTURE SERIES

A Few of the Highlights

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen — W. H. Auden, Poet — Vienna Choir Boys
The Ostas — Jan Rubes — Valter Poole — Carlos Fallon
Jeannine Morand — Paul Paray — Father Max Jordan

FIFTEEN PRESENTATIONS

Founded and still directed by Father J. Stanley Murphy, C.S.B., M.A., the Christian Culture Series during this nineteenth season has been enjoying unparalleled success.

Close to three hundred great lectures and almost one hundred great concerts have been brought to this Detroit-Windsor environment via the Series.

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen opened the Series, his eighteenth appearance as opening speaker, in late September. Other distinguished speakers included the most renowned living poet, W. H. Auden; philosopher Rev. J. M. Oesterreicher, author of "The Walls Are Crumbling"; Dean of Radio editors, Father Max Jordan; Comm. Carlos Fallon, brilliant and witty Latin-American expert; Rev. A. Curoussoff, Russian born Jesuit of the Russian rite; Canon Bernard Iddings Bell, famous Episcopalian author and educator; Hon. Paul Martin, Canada's Minister of Health and delegate to the U.N.; and Mr. C. Malik, the 1953 Christian Culture Award Medallist..

Vivienne Bennett, celebrated British Actress, gave an evening of selections from great plays in costume.

Concerts were offered by the 105 man, world-acclaimed Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Valter Poole conducted the first concert and Jan Rubes, Basso, was soloist; Paul Paray conducted the next two concerts, with Canada's leading Dramatic Soprano, Jeannine Morand, and George Haddad, Canadian pianist, as soloist. A piano and organ concert was given by Paul Doyon. The Vienna Choir Boys made their third appearance in the Series, as did the piano and dance team of Emilio and Teresita Osta.

Henry Ford II

An interesting outgrowth of the Christian Culture Series is the annual Christian Culture Award Medal bestowed on "some outstanding lay exponent of Christian ideals." The gold medal itself was designed by the distinguished Hungarian artist, now a Windsor resident, Prof. F. Varga.

The first recipient was the late Sigrind Undset, Norwegian novelist and Nobel Prize Winner, 1941. Other medalists up to this year have been: the world's leading Catholic philospher, Jacques Maritain of France; the late Phillip Murray, Pres. of the C.I.O.; author-publisher Frank J. Sheed who was born in Australia; Czech-born, naturalized Canadian composer and musicologist, Arnold M. Walter; Henry Ford II, industrialist; American Papal Academician Scientist, George S. Sperti; Richard Pattee, American historian and authority on Spain and Latin-America; greatest living historian of Mediaeval Philosophy and member of the French Academy, Etienne Gilson; Paul Doyon, Canadian blind musician; Christopher Dawson of England, historian; Dr. John C. H. Wu, famed Chinese authority on Law and first Chinese Ambassador to the Vatican.

POEMS — By R. J. SCHIFFERLI

The foxes have dens, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head.
—Matt. viii, 20

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

The Founder's come.
Mary is ecstatic with His favor;
Joseph beholds a prophesy fulfilled.
Astral cadence permeates the heavens,
While the stellar-beacon beckons winter-chilled . . .

The Christmas shopping's done;
The tree decorated and the meal prepared.
The season is here, the reason for merriment.
Notions of gifts trip through our heads.
We'll worry tomorrow how bills will be paid

Winter's dust has settled on the earth.
The sun forms a crude-wrought rapier on the eaves,
While indoors the food invites gluttony.
Men project seasonal love on worldly men,
And give for the egotism of gratitude.

The children have waited long for their gifts.
The anticipation was almost too much to endure.
They open and are awed. It is a joyous day for them.

For the oldsters it has dulled.
There is something lacking;
It was different in their youth . . .

Long awaited Gateman, what have you found,
A Simeon's joy or a Herod's rebuke?

November, 1952

YOU KNOW

We're an industrious people.
We support telephone poles when waiting for busses,
And hold up buildings when waiting for people.

We're a humble people.
We blush modestly when people extoll our virtues,
And would never think of saying
"I was the one who did that noble thing."

We're a quiet people.
Few would think of making noise in a saloon,
Or hooting at an unfavorable fight decision.

We're a cultured people.
Men like Mason or Spillane barely survive,
While Auden and Eliot feast.

But above all, we're a religious people.
Few think evil thoughts,
And God is mentioned in the factories every day.

December, 1952.

NOT FOR ME

She said she'd marry me,
She'd love but me alone;
And that I should love her
And take her for my own.

But I was skeptical.
So I left; but kissed her at the door.
Women are so fickle—
Especially when they're four.

January, 1953

THE UNRESOLVED

Discontent lapped at my foundation,
Seeped through my emotions,
Frustrated, disrupted every act,
And thunderhead days forewarning
Storm-tossed nights: subconscious churning,
Fogged mind, reality obscured.

The flood swelled,
Soaked, extinguished remaining life-fire:
Escape became my only willed thought,
And this intensified the turmoil; louder, shallower.

Tempestuous fear-waves eddied 'round my sanity,
Cringing before the surging breakers,
Sanity snapped its bonds within by brain;
The remnants driven out by raging tide:
Honour . . . Position . . . Wealth . . .
Why cling to them?
They were drenched enough, why drown them?
One
By
One,
My latest first, my first last.
Nearly saturated . . .
God . . .
God! Where had that notion been?

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At this point the Faculty and the Students of Assumption College and the Staff of the Ambassador would like to extend a hearty vote of thanks to all those kind people who have so generously devoted their time and energies in making this yearbook a success.

Father E. Cullinane, C. S.B.	For his encouragement, constructive criticism, religious inspiration, and artistic ideas on design.
Mr. Noel Wilde	For his consideration and patience in being called at all hours and his promptness in last minute appointments. Also without whose expert technique, the excellent photography of the book would not have been possible.
Mr. C. E. Sennett	Whose personal interest as President of the Curtis Co. Ltd. made possible the publication of this book.
Mr. A. Craig Mr. K. Dandie Mr. R. Hopwood Mr. J. Macdonald, and Staff of the Curtis Co. Ltd.	The co-operation of these men at the Curtis Co. was wholehearted and enthusiastic. It was truly an inspiration for the staff of the Ambassador to work with them. The technical problems of the book fell on their shoulders, and the personal pride that they took in the publication, plus their amazing know how were responsible for the very gratifying results.
Mr. Arthur Seal	No yearbook could ever be a success without the talents of a first rate artist. The staff of the Ambassador feels that Mr. Seal is such an artist. His talent coupled with a tremendous reserve of patience and understanding resulted in work that has given the book a truly artistic and modern touch.
The Windsor Star	For the use of their picture library.
Our Advertiser	We of the Ambassador wish to express our deepest gratitude to all those people who have been so kind as to be our patrons and advertisers. It is our hope that we have given you a book worthy of your generosity.

measuring your tomorrow... today!

Canada offers an exciting prospect for the young career-planner.

On prairie sweep and in isolated wilderness, eager hands are uncovering proven fields of oil, iron, titanium, uranium. In the west, a new chemical industry is booming, and in every province, each month brings forth fresh evidence of nature's bounty. Small wonder businessmen the world over refer to Canada as the land of opportunity.

But great natural riches provide only the foundation for a prosperous future. Prosperity must be built—and that takes men and women, hundreds of thousands of them, to contribute their talents, skill and zeal. These people will share in Canada's destiny . . . with profit to the nation and themselves.

Take careful measure of the outlook for Canada when planning your own career. Here you will find abundant scope.

My best wishes to Assumption College, which I hope soon will be a university.

The public does not yet appreciate the wonderful institution of learning we have in our fair city.

Not only are Religion and Languages being taught, but also the various branches of Science and Arts.

Assumption students receive a truly liberal education. They grow in knowledge and wisdom.
